

Charlotte Named a “Freightliner Trucks Hardest Working City”

Oct 15, 2018

Award presentation celebrating economic growth to take place Nov. 9 at zMAX Dragway

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — (Oct. 15, 2018) — Charlotte has been selected to receive the Freightliner Trucks Hardest Working Cities award, which recognizes cities fueling economic growth and job creation in the U.S. and Canada. A formal award presentation will be held on Friday, Nov. 9, at 11:30 a.m. EST at zMAX Dragway. The recognition program was originally scheduled to honor Charlotte in September, but because of Hurricane Florence the presentation was rescheduled.

In addition to the award presentation on Nov. 9, which includes a vocational ride and drive on a custom urban track, Freightliner will deliver food and gifts to job sites around the city to thank workers for their contributions. Work site visits will include the City of Charlotte Department of Transportation, where hundreds of men and women work daily to keep roads safe in the Charlotte area, and K&S Sanitation Service, a refuse collection company serving Charlotte since 1986. Prior to Hurricane Florence, Freightliner visited The Building Center, a regional lumber and building products dealer, to honor their hard work in helping keep the Charlotte region going strong.
