Aug 21, 2008

DALLAS – Aug. 21, 2008 – Freightliner Trucks today announced that a new chrome accessories package is available for the Freightliner Cascadia™. This sleek new customization option further enhances the Cascadia's unique driving experience.

Made by Panelite, Inc., the leading designer and manufacturer of decorative stainless steel accessories for Class 8 heavy duty trucks, the new package will offer two trim levels, and includes options for cab panels; marker lights; fender and grille trim; and coordinating interior products. Panelite is also the long-time supplier of chrome trim options for the Freightliner Coronado® and Classic.

“We know that Cascadia drivers are proud of their trucks, and like to stand out from the crowd,” said Melissa Clausen, director of product marketing for Freightliner Trucks. “Our new chrome package options give drivers the ability to trick out their vehicles, while still enjoying all of the Cascadia’s extensive benefits. It is truly the best of both worlds.”

The new accessories will be available to order for the Cascadia in October 2008.
