

New Website for SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh Celebrates Region's History

Mar 22, 2007

SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania's leading used truck dealer, has launched a new website that celebrates the history of the region it serves. The website's user-friendly design and customized look is highly functional, enabling fleet and owner-operator customers to quickly find trucks that meet their needs.

"At SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh we are committed to providing the best customer service possible," said Chris Cox, Center Manager. "We ensure that our customer's needs are met on every level. That's why we are excited to add this very informative, easy to use website to our long list of services," he added.

As a tribute to Pittsburgh's proud history in steel production, SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh's new website features steel plates, interactive sparks, a metallic looking frame around menu options, and images of a skilled steelworker. The site is easy to navigate with up-to-date inventory listings searchable by mileage, make, model, and price. Pertinent website pages - such as financing and warranty options - are visibly placed throughout the site. "Customers can search quickly and effectively to find what they need," noted Cox. "Owner-operators can download the credit application form at their convenience and fleet owners can view our inventory after-hours."

SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh also offers perks to website users. "Customers can take advantage of our Manager's Special," Cox said. "It is a helpful tool for our returning and first-time customers alike," he added.

SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh is located in Canonsburg at 24 Fyda Drive. Just 20 miles south of Pittsburgh, the Center is convenient to major thoroughfares including I-79 and I-70. Spanning approximately five acres, SelecTrucks of Pittsburgh accommodates over 60 trucks.
